

Centre Canadien d'Architecture / Canadian Centre for Architecture

Position to fill

Position identification

Position title:	Programmer for Indigenous Communities
Division:	Programs
Service:	Public
Immediate superior:	Curator, Public
Status:	Contract and mandate, two years
Posting period:	From 9 May to 12 June 2022
Job entry:	As soon as possible

About the CCA

Strengthened by its extensive Collection (archives, prints & drawings, photography and new media, library holdings) and based on its exhibitions, programs, and research opportunities, the Canadian Centre for Architecture (CCA) is a leading voice in advancing knowledge, promoting public understanding, and widening the debate on architecture, its history, theory, practice, and role in society today.

Mandate Summary

The CCA's Programs Division researches and organizes exhibitions and public programs as a cultural production to suggest new perspectives for architectural debate, and to catalyze new lines of thinking. Public programs design and deploy projects to generate new ideas and encounters with a diverse audience.

Mandate responsibilities include the development of new cultural productions geared toward Indigenous youth, potential transformation of existing programs, and strengthening relationships with diverse racialized communities. The position would assist in the oversight and creation of programs, both virtual and face-to-face, focused on the experience of Indigenous youth in collaboration with the CCA's public programs team in achieving their goals.

In recognition of the importance of the lived experience of these communities to appropriate programming, preference will be given to candidates who can demonstrate links to the communities involved in the Montreal area.

Centre Canadien d'Architecture / Canadian Centre for Architecture

Key Responsibilities

Development of public programs

- Creates hands-on workshops that address questions, concerns, or observations of Indigenous youth about architecture, urban planning, design and the built environment in their respective communities
- Develops, in conversation with the CCA's Public Programs team, youth activities that focus on the ideas and practices of Indigenous communities
- Guides the research through each phase of the workshop design
- Produces training materials for the delivery of new workshops
- Ensures the delivery of the new materials during the pilot period and adjusts as necessary
- Trains the CCA staff in the delivery of the new workshops

Audience outreach activities

- Participates in screening and communication with Indigenous communities through schools, organizations, and other relevant groups
- Builds on existing CCA research to identify schools and organizations to work with
- Contacts targeted schools and organizations to inform them of CCA's workshop offerings and establishes lasting relationships with them

Required Qualifications

- Experience in the community sector
- Experience or strong interest in architecture and urban development
- Training in teaching, communication or group facilitation is an asset
- Experience in developing and implementing educational programs in a museum setting would be an asset
- Ability to manage one's schedule independently and meet deadlines

Hourly rate and mandate duration

- Between $30 and $35 per hour, paid as consultant
- 32 weeks of 12 hours per year, the schedule and specific hours will be discussed with the candidate and may be subject to change as the project progresses

Centre Canadien d'Architecture / Canadian Centre for Architecture

Please submit your application (resume and cover letter, in English or French) by email to rh@cca.qc.ca to the attention of People and Culture division of Canadian Centre for Architecture, 1920 rue Baile, Montreal (Quebec) H3H 2S6. The application deadline is 12 June 2022. Only successful applicants will be contacted. Please do not call.

For all CCA existing job opportunities, visit our website.