

ASSEMBLAGE AGORA

CHAOS

The modern agora takes over Mont-royal. As the city congregates and citizens overflow the streets, we propose a reimagined congregational space & movement, we take a slice of mont-royal and give it back to the people. The citizens overlook the mothercity and echo there defiance and claims. As the night comes closer, the smoke of the agora takes over the night sky and lets Montreal know that it isnt asleep just yet.

Through the inserted radio signals, the space will alert when a congregation is to be adorned, allowing the slow flood of its people to come towards the mountain.

The proposal also imagines the space to have a non chaotic response at times, as citizens simply take over the mountain in a supporting and peaceful manner. The space and vastness of the materiality gives it a dimension and varied response.
