

THE SOCIAL PLATFORM

The Social Platform duplicates and elevates the democratic and communal qualities of Parliament Hill. It is primarily a space that enables interaction, discussion and dispute.

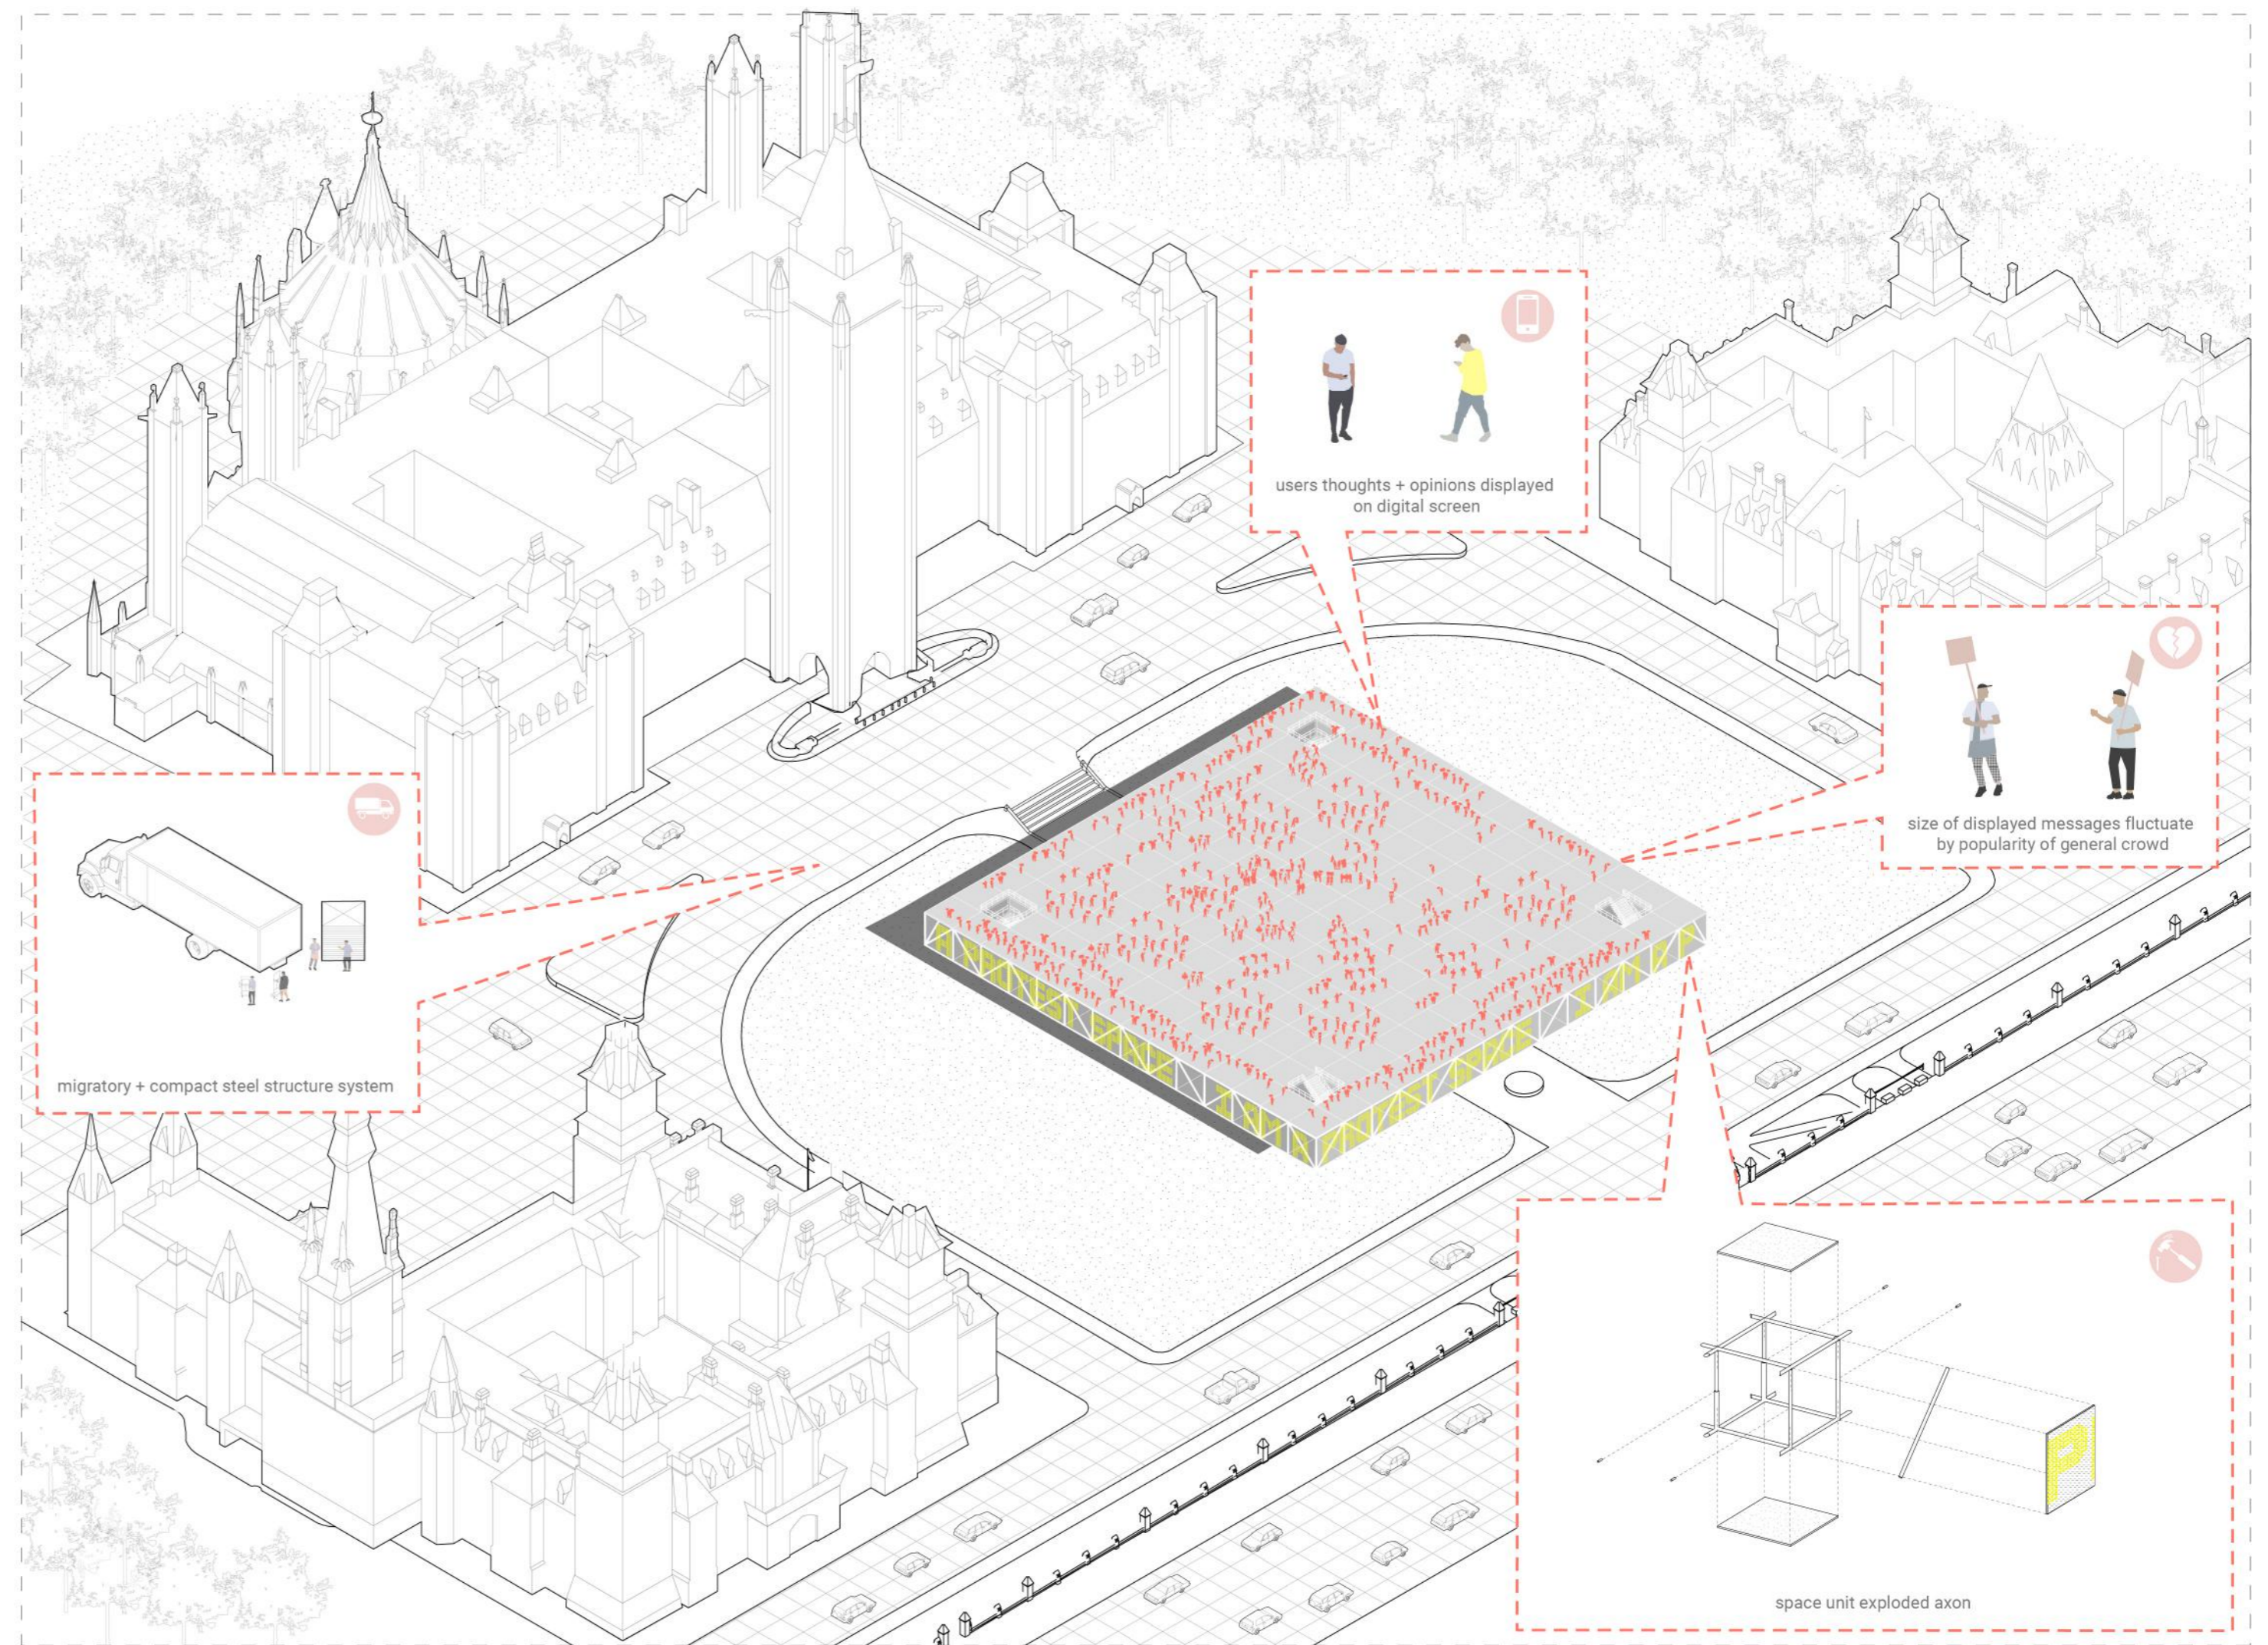

Rather than simply conforming to a space for protest, The Social Platform adapts to the numerous facets of human interaction. Programmatically, the project is extremely flexible; lightweight and modular structure allows for impromptu, ubiquitous and custom assembly.

Embracing the digital age, the LED mesh perimeter of The Social Platform acts as a canvas for digital opinions. Posts which grow in popularity, grow in size.

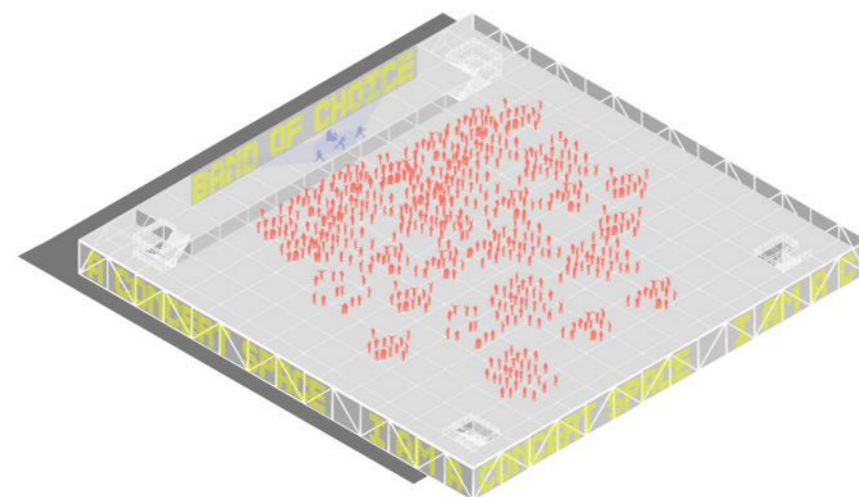

A new scale of digital voice is elevated.

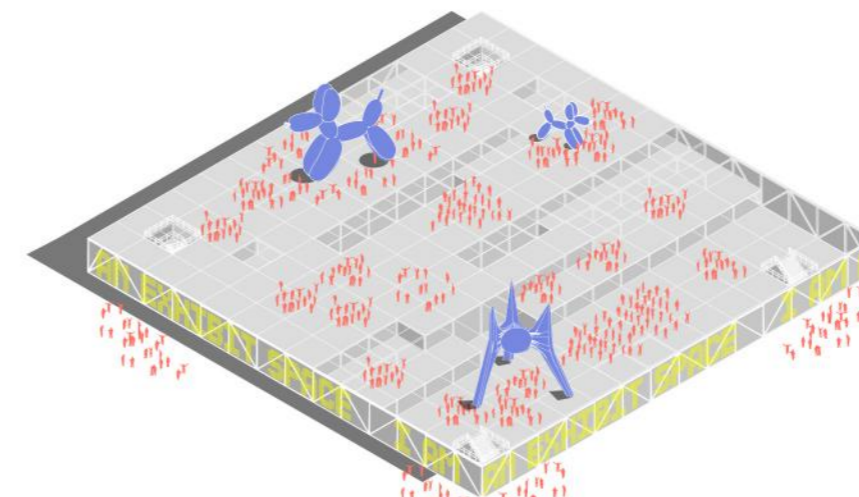

site plan 1:2000

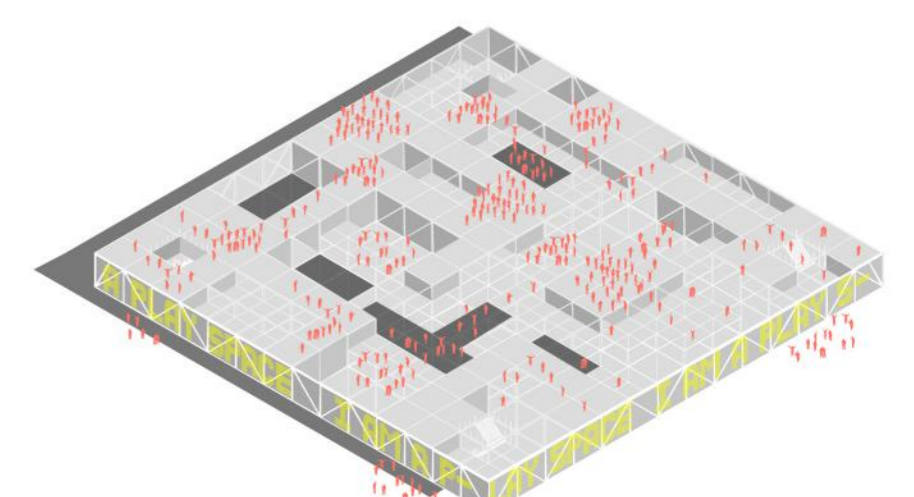

"protest space"

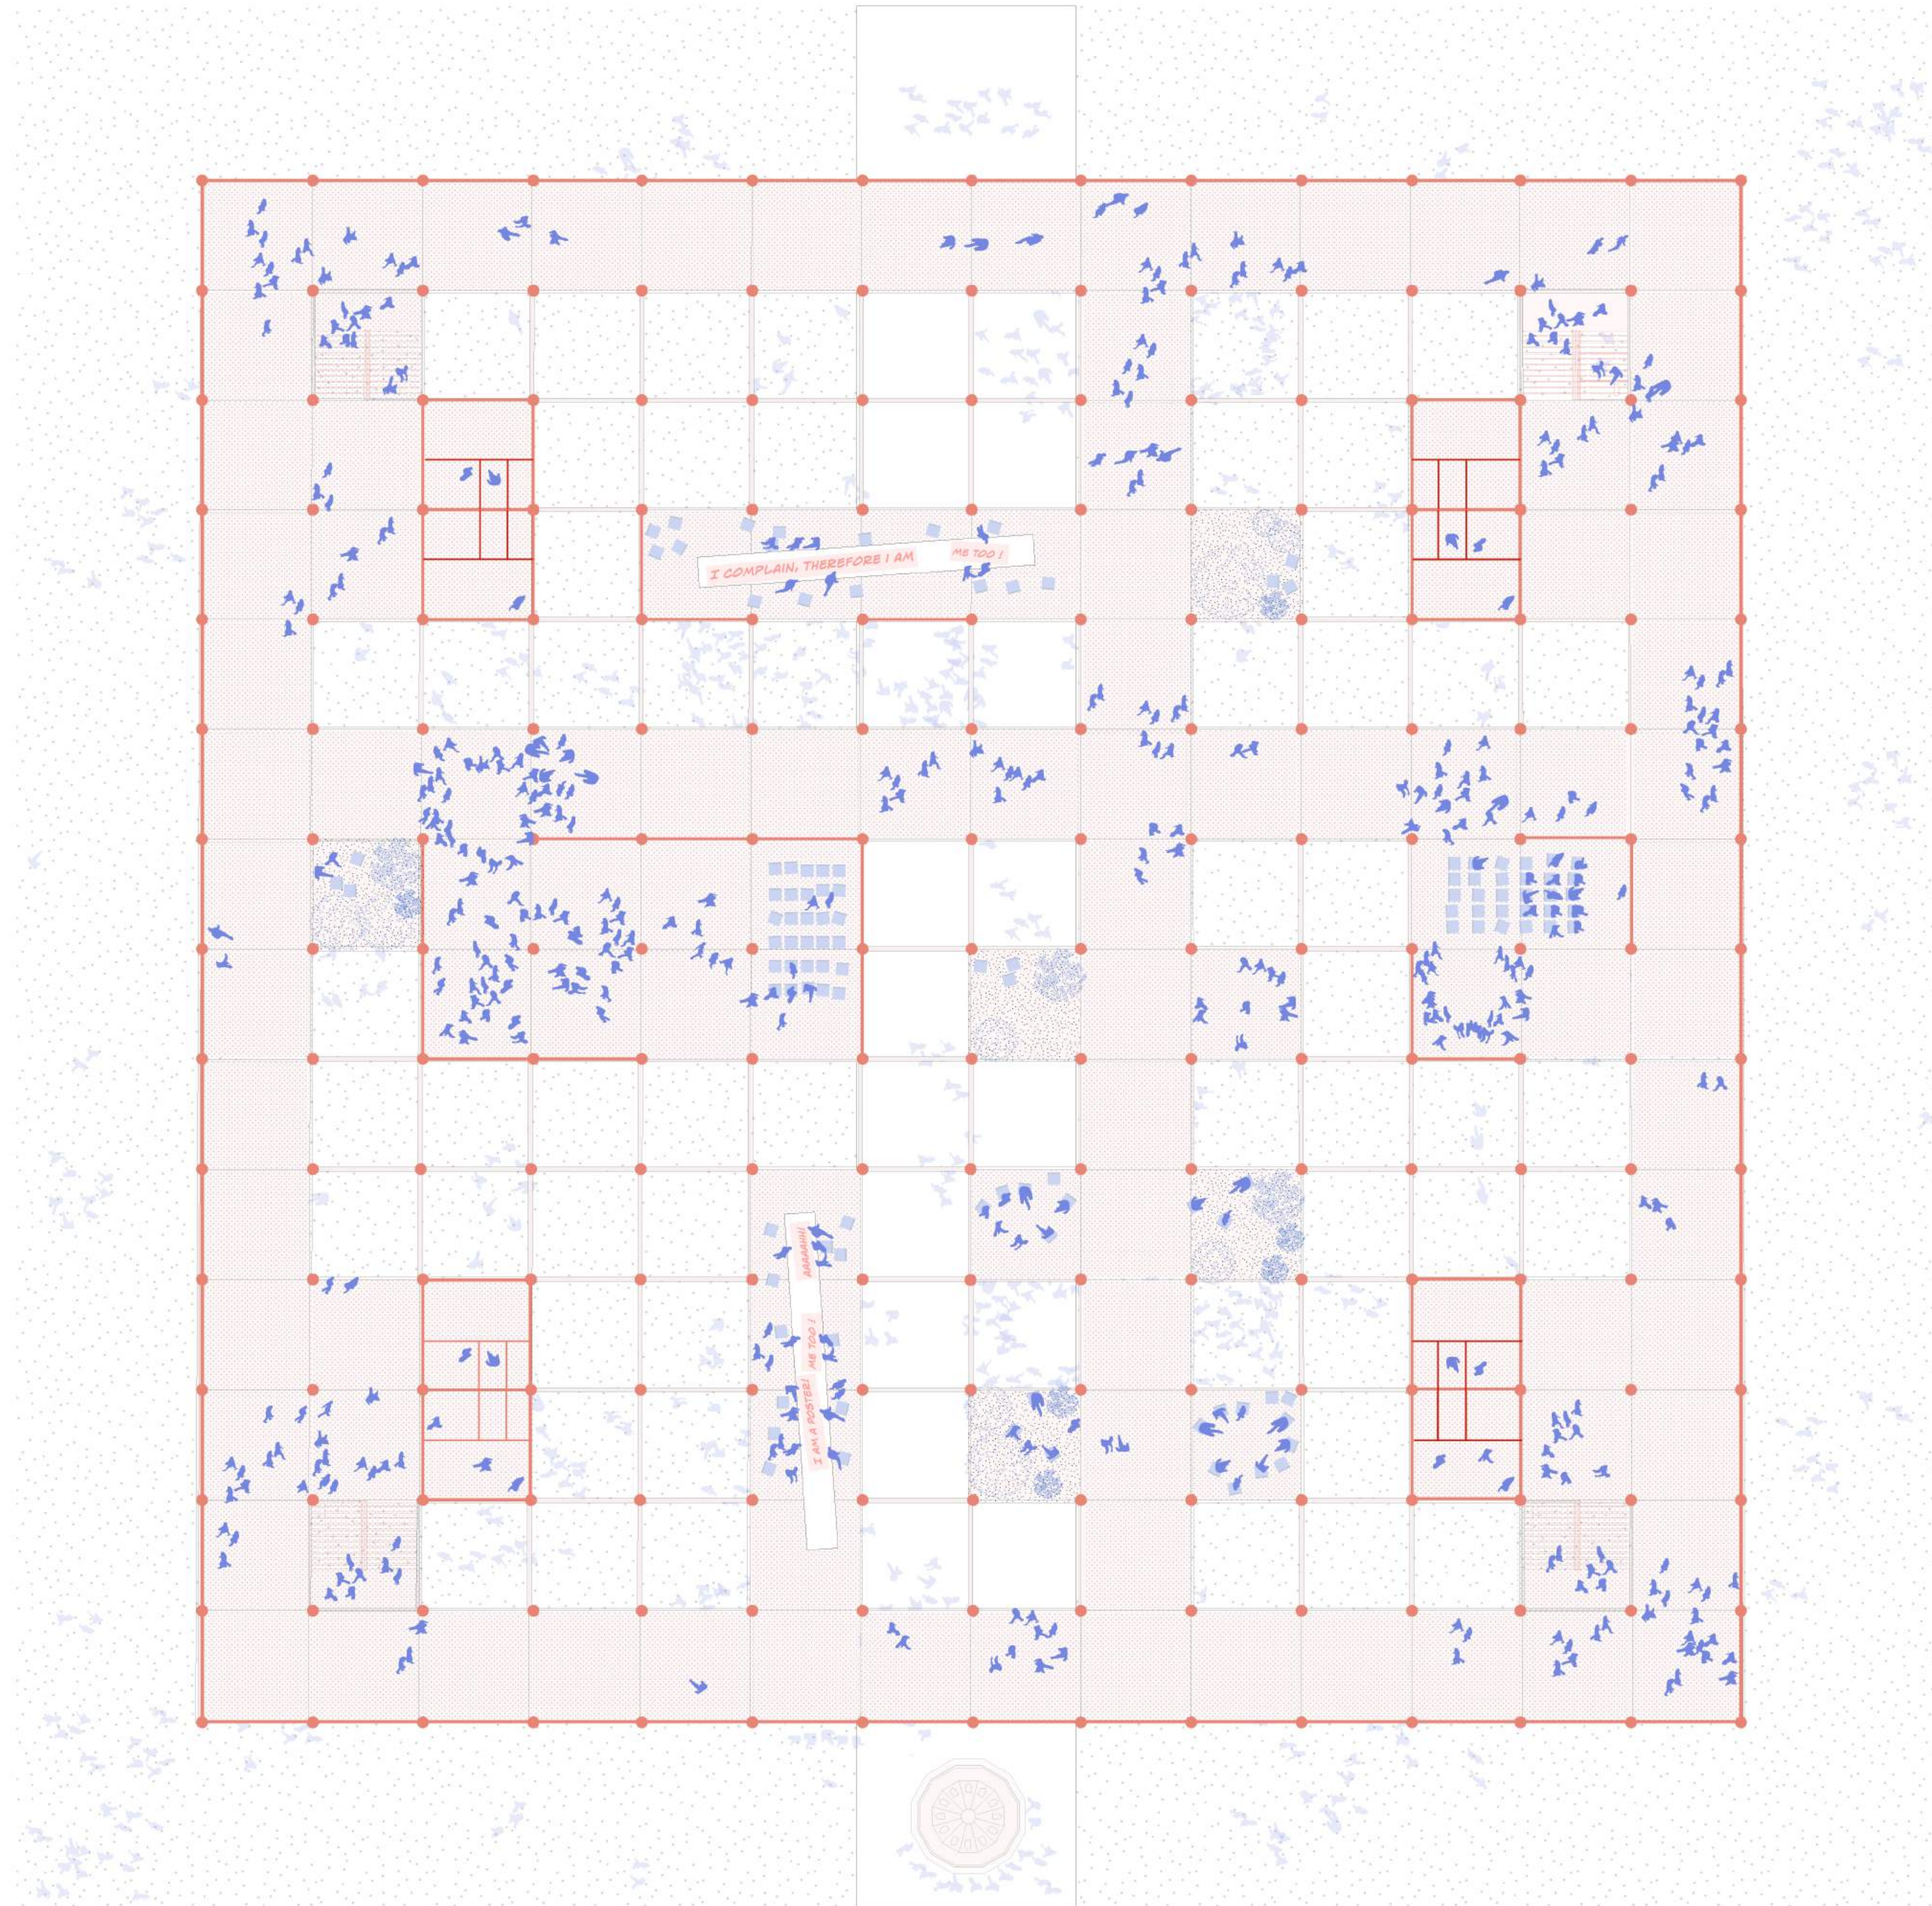

"concert space"

"exhibition space"

"play space"

elevated floor plan 1:250

